

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

W. J. Rouse, of New York, is at the Hubbs.

Ed. Burke is in White Hills on pleasure bent.

George Dyke, of Mineral Park, is in Kingman.

W. W. Howard of Denver, was at the Hubbs yesterday.

Thomas Woods was in from Wallapai mountains yesterday.

Dr. Pentland, the gentlemanly dentist of Prescott, is at the Hubbs.

D. Eggleston, of White Hills, put up at the Commercial this week.

"Gentle sprig ab gomb" and so have innumerable colds in the head.

Work on the Bowers water tunnel in Railroad canyon is in progress.

Stephen Smith, of Mineral Park, paid Kingman a short visit this week.

The Commercial is fast forging to the front as the leading hotel of Kingman.

Kean St Charles left for Los Angeles Thursday night on a short business trip.

J. Olsen, of the blizzard state, Nebraska, was at the Hubbs House, the other day.

L. I. Bay, Wells Fargo & Co. express route agent, was in Kingman last Sunday.

Harvey Hubbs has one of the finest fields of grain that can be found in Arizona.

Jack Maybee has returned to Kingman after a ten days' visit to Union Basin.

Cottonwood trees are in leaf in some parts of the town and apricots are in full bloom.

A. S. Hore is now night operator at this station. He is a right pleasant gentleman.

An immense amount of freight is now passing east over the Atlantic and Pacific road.

Phineas Holly Tompkins, of Cedar, put up at the Hubbs House several days this week.

John Babson went out to Cerbat this week in company of T. L. Ayres, but is home again.

J. H. Cooper is the new agent at Kingman and he is sure to be popular with our people.

Thomas and Owen McNeely, two good miners of Mineral Park, are stopping at the Hubbs House.

John J. Hart, a travelling typo of Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania, was at the Hubbs House yesterday.

E. D. Seymour, a San Francisco knight of the gripsack, was a guest of the Commercial this week.

Charles O'Mally returned from Prescott Wednesday night and went out to White Hills the next day.

Stephen Henkle, of Mineral Park, was in Kingman this week having a good time with his host of friends.

John S. Griggs and S. H. Fairchild of Kansas City, were in Kingman this week, guests of the Hubbs House.

A train load of cattle from Phenix, the first of a shipment of four hundred cars, passed through Kingman yesterday.

In the suit of W. H. Lake vs. Mohave county judgment was rendered for defendant. The case will probably be appealed.

W. G. Risenberg and party of San Diego gentlemen, arrived from Temple Bar last night. They report everything at the mines going smoothly.

Two sisters of charity from Washington were in Kingman this week collecting money for an orphan asylum in that state. They went to White Hills.

Miss Carrie Gross was up from Fort Mohave Monday, attending the wedding of her sister Della to John Harris. She returned to the Fort Monday night.

C. R. Hill, traveling auditor of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad, was in Kingman Sunday making a transfer of the Kingman office to the new agent.

Mrs. R. R. Cowan has opened a private school at her residence near the sampling works and has about sixteen scholars. She is an excellent teacher.

Prot. S. M. McCowan, Dr. A. F. Newcomb, the Misses O. A. Stratton and C. B. Culton came up by way of Union Pass from Fort Mohave Thursday. They appear to be well pleased with Kingman.

Judge W. G. Blakely went over to Prescott to appear for the county in the case of W. H. Lake vs. Mohave county, which was tried before Judge Baker this week.

Thomas Gilbert returned Wednesday evening from Williams. He says there is too much snow and ice and slush and mud in the village on the mountain to suit him.

Col. Harley Fay has just set out a large number of shade and ornamental trees on his place on Pine street. The Colonel intends to have one of the finest places in Kingman.

George L. Shoup has been elected United States Senator by the Idaho legislature. Senator Shoup is an ardent advocate of silver and we are glad to note his re-election.

The Buckeye mine has added to its force three more experienced Colorado miners, who arrived from Denver yesterday. Their names are Ben Ullmer, Chas. Rice and Frank Lafcoe.

Bids on the new school house for Kingman will be opened Monday by the board of trustees. We hope the contract will be let and that the work will be commenced right away.

Weinstock, Lubin & Co. have a word to say to our readers through the advertising columns of the MINER. Like all successful business men they recognize the importance of advertising.

T. L. Ayres had eleven tons of gold ore from the Goodenough mine at Cerbat, worked at the Kingman sampler Monday. The ore ran well up in gold and netted him a goodly sum of cash.

Halsey & Lynch's assay office has been running every day this week, as also has the assay office of the Kingman sampler. Miners and prospectors are all out in the hills looking for something good.

Miners will now have a chance to do the assessment work for outside corporations that are holding hundreds of claims without doing any work on them. Congress refused to pass another exemption bill.

Mrs. G. H. Adams, wife of Rev. G. H. Adams, at one time presiding elder of Arizona, who has been blind for years, has recovered her sight. Mrs. Adams will be remembered by many Mohave county people.

George Miller, the accommodating butcher of the Kingman Market, will leave in about ten days for his ranch near Hackberry where he intends to round up beef cattle for delivery to Bacon & Co. in April.

Mrs. W. L. McGee, of the Sandy, died in Tipton, Tulare county, California, last week. The cause of death was paralysis. Mrs. McGee was an amiable, broadminded woman and her death is regretted by all who knew her.

We are glad to note that William Hodges, at one time editor of the old Alta Arizona, is now undersheriff of Yuma county. Billy is an excellent young man and the appointment cannot be other than satisfactory to the people.

William Larkin won his suit against the Bank of Arizona. The amount of the judgment is not given. The suit grew out of a settlement between the bank and Mr. Larkin while the latter was settling up the affairs of the old Arizona sampling works.

F. W. Thies, of Chloride, put up at the Commercial a few days ago. He is still working a number of men on his lead claims at Chloride and seems to be making them pay well. Nothing like careful business management to make mining a paying investment.

A. M. McDuffie informs us that he received a letter last week from M. O. Rollins, whom we reported dead a short time ago. Mr. Rollins is a resident of Idaho. Rollins and wife who were asphyxiated by gas in Minneapolis bore the same name, hence the mistake.

Clifton, the barber, can always be found at his well fitted tonsorial parlors, where you can get the best shave and hair-cut in the southwest. Call in and get your winter's mane trimmed and face groomed and give the spring sunshine a chance as it smiles upon nature in this glorious climate.

W. J. Rouse, representing Bailey's circus, was in town this week and took away with him three Wallapai Indians and three squaws. So far he has contracted for thirty-six Indians and squaws, representing every tribe in the territory. The Indians will be placed on exhibition with the circus.

The trial of E. Rosenthal was ended in Judge Redman's court Saturday last by the disagreement of the jury, the panel standing six and six. Judge Murphy asked the court to discharge the defendant, as in his opinion, no conviction could be had.

Harry Haywood, whose trial for the murder of Miss Gigg has been on in Minneapolis for the past six weeks, was found guilty and will probably be sentenced to hang. The case was closed yesterday afternoon and only thirty minutes were required to find a verdict.

The first consignment of four hundred carloads of fat cattle from the Salt River valley and tributary thereto passed west to California yesterday. They were loaded at Phenix and were of the finest quality. The north and south road promises to be a great feeder to the Santa Fe system.

The chef, who will have charge of culinary department of the new Commercial Hotel, arrived from Prescott yesterday. He is from the Hotel Burke of that city, one of the most celebrated hosteleries of the Southwest. Mr. Dawson comes well recommended and is the only white cook employed at the Kingman hotels.

Mrs. W. A. L. Tarr and family departed for their new home in Manuquito, New Mexico, Tuesday morning. Their host of friends in Kingman congregated on the depot platform to bid them farewell and to express regret over their departure. If good wishes go for anything their new home will indeed be a paradise.

The statement of the earnings of the Atlantic & Pacific for the month of January, as given out by the receivers, shows a deficit of $172. This is a gain of $63,654 over that of January 1894, which is a good, healthy showing for a road that has never yet paid operating expenses, and especially as the dull times are growing still duller.

Here is the truth in a nut shell. The Atlanta Constitution says the silver men can carry the country by organizing their forces, but not otherwise. The same authority says that if the Democratic party expects to win in 1896 it will have to nominate a Western man who is known to be for silver, and it will have to make an unequivocal declaration in its platform.

A scene was enacted at the depot this morning on the departure of the east bound passenger train bearing the Indians and squaws to their eastern home. The friends and relatives of the Indians assembled on the depot platform to see them off. One of the Indians harranged the crowd and the squaws wept so copiously that the officials feared that the track would be washed away.

The attack on the character of W. H. Lake by the Mineral Wealth partakes of the nature of scurrilousness. Mr. Lake's private character is not public property. Any of his public acts can be commented on, but when the insinuation is made that he would not be received in the better class of society we must brand it as a deliberate falsehood. Mr. Lake is a representative of Mohave county and is doing good work in our interest. He may not voice our personal views on women's suffrage, but he is probably carrying out his own theory on the subject.

The following is a partial list of the patented mining claims in Mohave county: Wallapai district—Cerbat, Connor, Rolling Wave, Ithica, Keystone, Lone Star, Metallic, Accident, Pinkham, Empira, Distaff, Flores, Cordelia, Todd, Oro Plato, Mariposa, Capel, '88 (old 63), Minnesota District—Gold Bug No. 2 and five other owned by the Gold Bug Mining Company. San Francisco district—Rattan, Ruth and California Moss.

Peacock district—Hackberry and Hackberry South. Owen district—Signal and McCracken. Cedar district—Arnold, Congress. Bentley district—Adams Lode.

Accidentally Shot.

About one o'clock Monday night Mrs. F. L. Smith thought she heard some one trying to effect an entrance to their residence on South Front street, and aroused her husband. Mr. Smith grasped his pistol and went in search of the supposed housebreakers. The front door was hard to open and he tried the knob with pistol in hand. In some unaccountable manner the weapon was discharged, the bullet passing through the calf of his left leg, inflicting a painful wound. A Ver Mehr, whose residence adjoins that of Mr. Smith, was awakened by the shot and went after the doctor. The wound was found not to be dangerous and Mr. Smith will be around again in about ten days. His many friends regret to hear of his mishap.

Hon. O. D. M. Gaddis.

The Republican feels constrained to say a good word in favor of Hon. O. D. M. Gaddis. If there is a gentleman in the legislature who has acted according to the dictates of his conscience and has held aloof from schemes and combinations it is the member from Mohave county.

The constant object of Mr. Gaddis since the convening of the legislature has been to promote the best interests of the whole territory and his influence in behalf of good legislation has constantly been apparent.

Whatever any member, in the heat of debate, may have said impugning the good intentions of Mr. Gaddis, can have no weight with those who know him.

Mr. Gaddis has faithfully labored for the interests of the whole people and he will go back to Mohave county with a record of which he may well feel proud. And not only is the record one that will afford personal gratification to Mr. Gaddis, but it is a record to which the friend of that gentleman may point with becoming pride.—Phoenix Republican.

Compliments of the Citizens of Kingman to W. A. L. Tarr.

A meeting was called last Tuesday evening at the court house and the following complimentary preambles and resolutions unanimously passed:

Whereas, Our esteemed fellow citizen, W. A. L. Tarr, has been transferred to another field of labor, and,

Whereas, The pleasant and satisfactory relations maintained by him with the business men of Mohave county for more than three years, render it fitting and proper that we should place upon record our appreciation of his fidelity, promptness and reliability in business, and his merits as a man, therefore be it

Resolved, That the arduous duties and responsibilities of his position as agent of the A. & P. R. R. Co. and Wells-Fargo Co., have been discharged with great satisfaction to the citizens of our county with the utmost integrity and fidelity to the companies:

Resolved, That we have entire confidence in his ability, integrity and upright character;

Resolved, That we deeply regret his departure (and that of his excellent family) from among us, and sincerely hope that future promotion and success may await him;

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the county papers, and copies forwarded to Manuquito, N. M.

Cupid's Triumph.

Last Monday afternoon, at Oak Creek ranch John W. Harris was united in marriage to Miss Della Gross, Rev. W. G. Blakely officiating. Only the intimate relatives of the bride and groom were present. Miss Gross was born and reared in Mohave county and is universally loved and admired for her amiable qualities. Mr. Harris is one of our young business men who numbers among his friends the whole population of the town. May their wedded life be one long dream of content and happiness.

Goldfield Still Advancing.

There is no doubt that Goldfield will eventually be one of the largest camps in the territory. Work has been continually going on in the camp and many rich properties have been discovered and worked, and nothing has been said about them. The county, as well as the whole territory of Arizona, is interested in the development of every camp, and it is with pleasure that we call attention to the recent good work that has been done at Goldfield.

The southern extension of the famous Bull Dog mine, in the Superstition district, known as the Cousin claim, which comes within 380 feet of the Bull Dog shaft, has been undergoing considerable work under the management of Sam Thorpe, who holds a bond on the property. The ore has been uncommonly good the entire distance, and every indication is that there is an immense mineral deposit on the property. There has been discovered already, several well defined ledges, and so far as exposed each one of them shows free gold in paying quantities, and visible to the naked eye.

The claim, with further development, will undoubtedly prove as valuable as its near neighbor, the Bull Dog.—Tribune.

The present Congress has performed one good act, for which the people should be thankful. It has so acted as to furnish future Congresses an example by avoiding which they can profit. It has practically indicated what a congress should not do, and omitted doing that which a congress should have done. The next congress has only to reverse the course of action to enable it to serve the people and gain credit for itself. Have we retrograded so far as to make imbecility appear as a virtue and stupidity as a sign of merit?—New York Financial Record.

The following are the arrivals at the Hubbs House this week:

Offord, the photographer, has taken his departure for Jerome. He is a good workman.

C. H. Fancher, local land agent of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad, has located a canal site on the Colorado river, above Fort Mohave. He has another gentleman associated with him.

Thomas McNeely will go to the Pure Metal mine in a few days. The mine is in charge of the former owner, William Ridenour.

A new mode of lightning has been introduced by Mr. Lester Betts, the manager of the Calcutta branch of the Oriental Telephone and Electrical Company, Limited, in the case of the Empress of India Cotton Mills at Budge, India, which are entirely lighted from the outside, special zinc fittings, with fifty candle power lamps being fitted to each window. This system, which has proved a complete success, saves the extra premium for fire insurance.—Electrical Review.
